

Density Map Update

Editorial Staff

Acupuncturetoday.com's Acupuncturist Density Maps have been revised to give viewers a more accurate portrait of the profession. A new program has allowed for the density maps to be updated weekly instead of monthly. This lets acupuncturists who are looking to open a new office or relocate find out how many practitioners are in their area. The density maps can also be used by recent graduates who want to open an office in an underserved location.

To review the Acupuncturist Density Maps, visit the Acupuncturist Locator (www.acupuncturetoday.com/locator) and click the "Acupuncturist Density Maps" image.
